BBC BIBLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Weekly Prayer Focus – November 21, 2021

Hello, my name is Daniel Orozco and I have been a student at Western Seminary since the spring of 2019 working towards my MA in Biblical and Theological Studies. I have served as the associate pastor at my current church for eight years consistently leading worship while serving in many other capacities. One area of my ministry has been to preach, occasionally to relieve my pastor, and as that gift has grown so has my desire to steward it well. Western was the clear choice as the senior pastor and some close friends of mine spoke very highly of it and I’m thankful to say it has been even more valuable than expected.

The thing that has impacted me the most has been how intentional my professors have been about having theology strengthen a love for God and for His church. The end goal of every discussion has been the practical implications of how it plays out in our hearts and in the local church. I am grateful for what I have learned from those who know Scripture so well and have clearly been humbled by the beauty of what God has revealed to them. I can only pray my growth in knowledge continues to do the same.

The Lord was kind in leading me to begin studying at Western knowing I would be entering a season where preaching would become my primary ministry. In January of 2022 we are planting a church on the other side of our city where I, along with the senior pastor, will comprise a preaching team to fill the pulpit weekly at both locations. As I move into this season with both excitement and fear, I am thankful for how Western has and will continue to equip me for the building up of His church and for the glory of His Name!
